

Adrian wins Gold at Construction Manager of the Year 2009

Adrian Kelly from Construction lifted the top award in his category at the CIOB Construction Manager of the Year Awards last night (Tuesday 27th October). Adrian was nominated for his work on the Wetherby Enhanced Primary Care Centre in the 'New Build / Refurbishment Projects £5m - £7m' category.

With 11 other finalists in the category, Adrian beat off some stiff competition to win the gold.

This is a great achievement and Adrian impressed the judges with his drive for constant improvement, attention to detail and problem solving.

Natasha Kaplinsky presented Adrian with his award and pictures will follow shortly.

Congratulations also to Eric Swithenbank and Cameron Stewart who were short listed in the £25m to £40m category for Carnival HQ, Southampton and Morrison's Granton respectively. There were over 300 nominations for this year's awards so just reaching the final is a major achievement and one that both Eric and Cameron should be extremely proud of.

This is the first time that Miller has entered the Construction Manager of the Year Awards and for all three candidates to reach the final and to have a category win is a huge achievement. We have always known our staff were amongst the best in the industry, now we have proof!

See what the Construction Manager of the Year website has to say about Adrian.

